Asset tracking provides the manufacturer, distributor, transporter, customer or an end-user with visibility across the entire enterprise through real-time reporting. Tracking can begin anywhere along the supply chain, from manufacturing through delivery, and you can deploy it when an asset is in use in the field. Your organization can use it to identify the past and present locations of your high-risk property, valuable items, or regulated products.

Peacocks Asset Track provides a single-system approach to a variety of automatic monitoring and tracking applications, including:

- Asset Management
